

True and Good: Living the Biblical Worldview is an opportunity to process the following ideas and more with a group of like-minded Christians in an effort to live faithfully, gain wisdom and act courageously. Here are some of the ideas we will cover:

- Grand narrative of the Bible--Creation, Fall, Redemption, Restoration
- Our role in the restoration process==4 questions: What is Good that we can promote? What is evil that we can stop? What is broken that we can fix? What is missing that we can add?
- Cultural mandate from Genesis: What does it mean and how does it apply?
- Why the Biblical worldview is both true and good
- Flourishing exists when we live in alignment with the Biblical worldview
- Ideas have consequences and bad ideas have victims
- Equipping you to help play a role in restoring God's world
- Why Worldview understanding is important: 1. To understand ourselves; 2. To live and share our faith; 3. To Understand How Others' Think; 4. To Propose Solutions to Issues which Align with a Biblical Worldview
- The concept of Worldviews--how we answer the big questions in life
- From worldview to action: Worldview—what is real; Beliefs—what is true; Values—what is good; Behavior—what we do
- Worldview categories and Biblical truth: Origin—created by God, Identity—made in the image of God, Meaning—found in fulfilling God's will, Morality—God centered and absolute, Destiny—Eternal life with or apart from God
- Understanding the alternative worldviews--Other religions, no religion (no supernatural), no truth
- Assessing the alternative worldviews: weaknesses for each
- How to live faithfully in a post-Christian world
- Balancing Truth and Love
- Public Theology--translating the Bible to the world around us
- Christianity's positive impact on history
- Apologetics and the importance of asking good questions
- Starting and having spiritual discussions
